The TSI Assessment is the test that you will take if you are Non-Exempt in reading, writing, and/or mathematics. The results of this test will determine:

- Whether you will be required to participate in developmental education classes,
- The areas of academic deficiencies that need to be addressed in developmental education classes,
- Your placement in the specific developmental education classes that will best meet your instructional needs,
- A diagnostic profile of your specific academic deficiencies so that you can target those areas for the fastest improvement track.

As you can see, it is so very important that you perform your very best on the TSI Assessment.

TSI Assessment College-Readiness Cut-Score Ranges:

Mathematics	350
Reading	351
Writing	5 on Essay	At least 350 AND essay score of at least a 5; OR At least 363 AND essay score of at least a 4; OR LESS THAN 350 AND an ABE Diagnostic at least a 4 AND essay of at least a 5

What to Expect:

- Three academic areas: Mathematics, Reading and Writing
- The placement score will be used to determine the type of developmental education that would best serve your particular needs.
- The diagnostic score may also be used for placement purposes, but the results of this test also reveal those strengths and weaknesses that should be addressed in your individual developmental plan.
